MAJOR CHANGE IN COLLEGE GOVERNANCE

Juniata students and faculty appointed to trustee committees

Homecoming weekend was an "historic occasion" in the words of Dr. John C. Baker '17, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Speaking to a joint meeting of the Trustees and the President's Development Council, he pointed out that "for the first time students and faculty are sitting with committees of the Board and planning the future of Juniata."

This major change in the governance of the College has been quietly accomplished as a result of the leadership of President John N. Stauffer '36. Students and faculty are involved at every level of the decision making process as a result of a pledge the president made during his 1968 inauguration to create "a climate of mutual trust and respect" on campus.

To implement this sweeping development, the Student Government appointed ten undergraduates and the faculty elected ten of its members to serve on the following Trustee committees: Finance and Investments, Budget, Buildings and Grounds, Audit, Academic Affairs, Plans and Resources and Nominating.

Both groups elected representatives to sit as observers with the Executive Committee and with the full Board of Trustees. These included Jonathan Hunter '72, a political science major from Modesto, California; Thomas Ziegler '73, a psychology major from Lansdale, Pa.; Thomas J. Nolan, registrar and associate professor of economics and Dr. Harry V. Klug, professor of political science.

President Stauffer, meanwhile, announced the appointment of three professors and three students to join his Administrative Committee during its periodic meetings. Commenting on all of these moves to strengthen the governing structure, the president said: "The inclusion of students and faculty in Trustee committees will provide a new foundation for communication and trust within our community."

Other students serving with the Trustees include: Douglas R. Laird '71, Haddonfield, N.J.; Jack R. Reitnauer '71, Devon, Pa.; Robert J. Marcus '71, Ambler, Pa.; George F. Harpster '72, Tyrone, Pa.; Miss Susan Dobson '72, Milford, Del.; Kenneth Floren '73, Reading, Pa.; and Carlos G. Alejandro '73, New York City.

Faculty participants include: Dr. Kenneth H. Rockwell, Paul M. Heberling, Max N. Heller, Dr. Philbrook W. Smith, Dr. James L. Gooch, Dr. Klaus Kipphan, Dr. Ray L. Pfrogner and Dr. Donald M. Rockwell.

PHASE II M. OF D. GOAL IS $2,500,000

Mr. Edwin L. Kennedy accepts honorary chairman post

The Phase II campaign of the $10,-100,000 Margin of Difference program was officially launched by President John N. Stauffer at a joint meeting of the Juniata Board of Trustees and the President's Development Council during Homecoming Weekend.

President Stauffer announced an initial $600,000 has been raised toward the goal of $2,500,000. The campaign began earlier than anticipated because of the successful completion of Phase I. This portion of the Margin of Difference program is to be completed by June, 1973.

Support will be solicited from philanthropic and corporate foundations, business organizations, special friends and benefactors. The bulk of the money is earmarked for teaching, student aid and improvements in the academic program.

President Stauffer announced that Mr. Edwin L. Kennedy, senior partner of Lehman Brothers, the well known New York City investment firm, will serve as Honorary Chairman.

Mr. Kennedy, in accepting the position, told his audience that never in history has the future of civilization been so dependent on education. He stated that only private, independent colleges can provide the leadership higher education needs. "We have a unique opportunity to serve," he declared.

Priorities in Phase II include: $436,000 for Ellis Hall; $880,000 for the Endowment Fund; $240,000 Matching Gifts for Charles A. Dana Professorships; $200,000 to improve the academic program; $147,000 for campus improvement.

The Phase II committees and their chairmen are: Foundation Gifts, Lester M. Rosenberger; Corporate Gifts, Cecil E. Loomis; Deferred Gifts, LeRoy S. Maxwell; Church Involvement, Rex W. Hershberger; Special Projects-Ellis Hall, Donovan R. Beachley Sr.; Special Projects-Dana Matching Gifts, Henry H. Gibbel; Special Gifts, Joseph R. Good.

HOMEcoming 1970

Homecoming Queen Miss Judith Lynne Turner presided over one of the largest of these traditional campus events in recent history, but, exciting as the day was, it only climaxed a memorable series of events for this attractive brunette.

Earlier in the week Miss Turner was awarded a $100 scholarship by the Women's League of Juniata College. A senior majoring in elementary education and Spanish, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Turner, Nanticoke, Pa. The award was presented during the League's annual meeting by Mrs. Donald M. Rockwell.

Lycoming College, the halftime parade of floats and the crowning of the Queen by Student Government President Douglas Laird. Miss Turner was escorted by Robert Marcus '71.

As Queen, Miss Turner was a special guest at the Alumni Banquet in Ellis Hall where awards were made for Annual Support Fund leadership during the 1969-70 year. Dr. Aaron Rabinowitz of New York City was recognized by Alumni President Miriam Wetzel '52, for his special interest in Juniata.

REPORT OF TASK FORCE ISSUED

Faculty and students begin debate of proposals

The report of the Juniata Task Force, representing nearly two years of intensive study and debate, was distributed to the faculty members at the beginning of the academic year in September. Proposing a major change in the curriculum and in the academic calendar, the report declares that "education must be, by definition, dynamic."

The two major changes from the present Juniata program, about which the faculty must make a decision, are calendar and degree requirements. The Task Force has recommended that a degree be given for the satisfactory completion of not less than 32 academic units instead of 120 credit hours and that the academic year be divided into three terms instead of two semesters, as at present.

As the academic year began, Acting Dean Wilfred Norris outlined the proposal to the faculty in special meetings and announced that the Faculty Council had accepted the job of planning parliamentary procedure for faculty action.

Following the appointment of Dr. Norris to Acting Dean, Mrs. Betty Ann Cherry, assistant professor of humanities, was named chairman of the Task Force. Discussions were held in each Division and on October 21 classes were suspended for a full day of debate by students and faculty in each department.

A student committee headed by Miss Donna Roppelt '71, from Abington, Pa., was organized to critically examine the Report and to present recommendations for refinement and subsequent action.

Alumni assisting with the study are Dr. Howard Angstadt '57 and Dr. Russell Hill '55. Mrs. Cherry outlined the report to an alumni meeting during Homecoming weekend. She urged interested alumni to study the Task Force proposal.

Most current debate seems to be centering on the suggestion for a "liberating" freshman year. This would consist of required courses in such topics as "Human Existence—An Historical Approach", "Modes of Thought and Inquiry", "Seminar" and "Writing Program". There would also be a course in general studies "Human Existence—An Analytical Approach" as well as courses in the students' areas of interest.

For the balance of his career at Juniata the student would work under a "Program of Emphasis" with approximately 26 units devoted to studies of his choice. However, the Report proposes that 15 of these units be completed as a coherent, related block endorsed by faculty advisors.

Donald Sease, Class of 1950. Presenting the inaugural address was Dr. William P. Tolley, chancellor emeritus of Syracuse University and an honorary alumnus of Juniata (LL.D. 1943).

To complete the roster of Juniatians at the inaugural, Dr. Richard D. Akers, who attended Juniata in 1954, represented the School of Theology at Claremont.

Dr. Gene Sease is a native of Portage, Cambria County, Pa. He earned a B.A. at Juniata and his B.D. and Master of Theology degrees at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. He also has a Master of Education and Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

We are deeply grateful to the Carthage Foundation for this generous award."

INDIANS UPSET W & J FOR BIG WIN

Team performance confirms early prognostications

FOOTBALL

With all systems "go", the Indians confirmed beyond doubt their pre-season rating by upsetting highly touted Washington and Jefferson, the undefeated leader of the Presidents' Athletic Conference, 10-0 on a rainy Parents Day afternoon.

After losing a heart breaker to Upsala 22-19 in the closing seconds of play, the Indians were determined to "put it all together" for the Parents Day crowd. Led by a 56-yard touchdown sprint by Dave Sparks and a 28 yard field goal by Mike McNeal, the Tribe became the "spoiler" as they handed the Presidents their first loss of the season.

After winning their opening game against Delaware Valley College, 28-6, on Sept. 19, the Indians went down to defeat at the hands of Albright, 20-18, and Susquehanna, 21-13, on two successive weekends.

On Oct. 10 at Grove City, the Tribe registered their first tie in 12 years, 14-14. Then, somehow, even high spirits at Homecoming were not enough to spark the pigskin prodigies to what seemed a sure win as they handed traditional rivals, the Warriors of Lycoming College, a 29-14 victory.

In their final game the Indians lost in the last two seconds to Moravian 0-3. The season ended 2-6-1.

Some outstanding individual efforts have been recognized, but somehow, as Coach Nadzak stated it, "We just couldn't seem to put it all together."

Among the outstanding efforts were those of freshman Mike McNeal, a halfback from Lewistown, who ran 53 yards for a touchdown the first time he ever carried the ball in a college game; Spangler junior Dan Rackovan, who led the M.A.C. Northern College Division in pass receiving and scoring at mid-season; and junior defensive specialists Sal Mercadante of Uniontown, Mo Taylor of Baltimore, Md., and Charley Jaquish of Alexandria, and junior offensive guard Dan Browne, also of Baltimore, who were named along with McNeal to all-star weekly teams in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross-country team captain Dennis Weidler, a junior from Annville, lost only one race in the 5-7 season while attempting to better the new 4.8 mile home record of 24 minutes, 27 seconds set during 1969.

Juniata's newest coach, Jack Swinderman, praised the team captain for his determination and endurance and said: "I am impressed with the example this young man sets for the other members of the squad."

The Indian thinclads took easy wins over St. Francis (25-30) and Albright (24-31), in the first two meets, but then dropped the first double-dual meet 36-24 to Dickinson and 32-26 to Johnstown/Pitt.

At Susquehanna, the harriers edged the home team by one point (27-28), providing some salve for Juniata's disappointment on the gridiron the same day.

Other losses were at the hands of Indiana (20-43), Bucknell (24-37), Franklin & Marshall (20-41) and Shipensburg (24-34).

BASKETBALL

Coach Swinderman met nearly 30 prospective basketball players on Oct. 15 in Memorial Gymnasium for the first practice of the new season, which will open Dec. 2 away at Indiana.

Juniata has four seniors returning from a team which has made two straight appearances in the Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division playoffs. Charlie Harvey, Jim McCarthy, Leroy Wentz—all Harrisburg area products—and John Smith of Lebanon will again form the backbone of the team, all four having started the last three years.

A fifth, sophomore Tom Rinaldi of Cranford, N.J., who was a spot starter much of last season, will serve as the team's "big man" this year.

As the Indians' new "chief", Coach Swinderman will be working to equal or better the 13-9 and 14-8 records of past seasons and he is looking forward to the challenge with genuine anticipation. He says he hopes to continue giving Juniata the brand of basketball its followers have come to expect.
